Some traditions of the Chinese New Year

A1

The Chinese think that as they meet a new year, they should put behind them the things of the past. They clean their houses, pay off debts, buy new clothes, paint their doors and windows frames, and even get new haircuts.

A2

Red is the traditional colour of the New Year. It frightens away evil spirits and brings good luck! So many Chinese people decorate their houses with red lanterns. They often wear red clothes as well. At midnight firecrackers and fireworks scare away evil spirits.

A3

On New Year's Eve, families gather for a meal. But they never eat meat, that's traditional. It's bad luck to use knives, scissors and any other sharp things on New Year's Day.

A4

Children wake up early on New Year's Day. They usually find small red envelopes with sweets or money under their pillows.

A5

You have to be happy and polite for 15 days after New Year's Day.

- A. Getting presents
- B. Wearing special colour
- C. Eating special food
- D. Doing something about the house
- E. Never using sharp things
- F. Being nice
